A boutique legal practice focused on the funds management and financial services industry

An alternative legal solution

Coltmans is a commercial law practice with a focus on financial services regulation.

As well as advising on issues specific to the financial services sector, Coltmans advises on broader corporate and commercial law issues.

As a boutique, Coltmans is able to provide legal services in more flexible ways that may be more suitable to your needs. That may be by:

- Acting as in-house legal counsel on a part time or casual basis, or for a fixed period to undertake a specific project or fill temporary staff or skills shortages
- Providing outsourced company secretarial services
- Serving on company boards or board committees, including external compliance committees
- Establishing compliance and training programs

There may be many other ways in which your needs could best be met. Ian Coltman welcomes the opportunity to discuss those possibilities with you.

Experience

Ian has practiced law for more than 25 years. He has extensive corporate, commercial and financial services law experience having worked at leading law firms in Melbourne and London, in senior roles with ASIC and as the Head of Legal for the Australian arm of one of the world's largest fund managers.
